

215 Pennsylvania Avenue, SE • Washington, D.C. 20003 • 202/546-4996 • www.citizen.org

TABLE OF NAFTA "CHAPTER 11" FOREIGN INVESTOR-STATE CASES AND CLAIMS November 2010

The North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) included an array of new corporate investment rights and protections that were unprecedented in scope and power. These special privileges promote offshoring of jobs by providing special treatment for firms that relocate, provide foreign investors new rights to own and control other countries' natural resources and land, and expose domestic environmental, financial and health laws to attack in international tribunals. These extreme rules have been replicated in various U.S. "free trade agreements" (FTAs), including CAFTA and various bilateral FTAs.

All U.S. FTAs except the Australia agreement empower foreign investors and firms to privately enforce their extraordinary new investor privileges by suing national governments in foreign tribunals.<sup>1</sup> Not only do the pacts provide foreign firms a way to attack other countries' domestic public interest laws and skirt their court systems, but the international tribunals empowered to decide these cases offer none of the basic due process or openness guarantees afforded in national courts. These so-called "investor-state" cases are litigated in special international arbitration bodies of the World Bank and the United Nations, which are closed to public participation, observation and input. A three-person panel composed of professional arbitrators listens to arguments in the case, with powers to award an unlimited amount of taxpayer dollars to corporations if they feel that a domestic policy or government decision has undermined such firms' new trade pact privileges and threatens their "expected future profits." Not only do these outlandish rules elevate overnight private foreign firms to the same stature of government signatories to international agreements, but if a corporation wins its private enforcement case, the taxpayers of the "losing" country must foot the bill. Over $326 million in compensation has already been paid out by governments to corporations in the 66 NAFTA cases filed to date. This includes attacks on natural resource policies, environmental protection and health and safety measures, and more.

This extraordinary attack on governments' ability to regulate in the public interest is a key element of recent and proposed NAFTA expansions. A fundamental battle that will play out in negotiations around a possible Trans-Pacific Partnership agreement is whether these extreme, damaging investor rights or their private enforcement will be included, especially given the growing recognition of these terms' damage.

&lt;sup>1</sup> The U.S.-Jordan and U.S.-Israel trade agreements, which do not follow the standard U.S. FTA model in most respects, also do not contain investor-state dispute settlement. The U.S.-Bahrain FTA does not contain investor-state dispute settlement, but the U.S. has a separate bilateral investment treaty with Bahrain that does.

Key

*Indicates date Notice of Intent to File a Claim was filed, the first step in the NAFTA investor-state process, when an investor notifies a government that it intends to bring a NAFTA Chapter 11 suit against that government. **Indicates date Notice of Arbitration was filed, the second step in the NAFTA investor-state process, when an investor notifies an arbitration body that it is ready to commence arbitration under NAFTA Chapter 11.

| Corporationor Investor | Venue | DamagesSought(U.S.$) | Status ofCase | Issue |
|----------------------------|-------|-------------------------------|-------------------|-------|
|----------------------------|-------|-------------------------------|-------------------|-------|

Cases & Claims Against the United States

| LoewenOct. 30, 1998*                           | ICSID    | $725million | Dismissed | First NAFTA Chapter 11 case challenging adomestic court ruling. Canadian funeral homeconglomerate challenged Mississippi state courtjury's damage award in a private contract disputeand various rules of civil procedure relating toposting bond for appeal. The underlying caseinvolved a local funeral home that claimed Loewenengaged in anti-competitive and predatorybusiness practices in breach of contract.June 2003: Claim dismissed on proceduralgrounds. Tribunal found that Loewen'sreorganization under U.S. bankruptcy laws as aU.S. corporation no longer qualified it to be a"foreign investor" entitled to NAFTA protection.However, the tribunal's ruling discussed the meritsof the case, noting that domestic court rulings inprivate contract disputes are subject to NAFTAinvestor-state claims. |
|--|----------|------------------|-----------|---|
|  |          |                  |           | October 2005: A U.S. District Court rejected an application by Loewen to vacate the procedural ruling and revive the case.  |
| MondevMay 6, 1999*Sept. 1,1999       | ICSID    | $50million  | Dismissed | Canadian real estate developer challengedMassachusetts Supreme Court ruling regardinglocal government sovereign immunity and land-use policy.October 2002: Claim dismissed on proceduralgrounds. Tribunal found that the majority ofMondev's claims, including its expropriation claim,were time-barred because the dispute on whichthe claim was based predated NAFTA.   |
| MethanexJune 15,1999*Dec. 3,1999 | UNCITRAL | $970million | Dismissed | Canadian corporation that produced methanol, acomponent chemical of the gasoline additiveMTBE, challenged California phase-out of theadditive, which was contaminating drinking watersources around the state.August 2005: Claim dismissed on procedural  |

|   |          |                    |                               | grounds. The tribunal ruled that it had nojurisdiction to determine Methanex's claimsbecause California's MTBE ban did not have asufficient connection to the firm's methanolproduction to qualify Methanex for protectionunder NAFTA's investment chapter. Tribunalorders Methanex to pay U.S. $3 million in legalfees. The tribunal permitted NGOs to submit amicibriefs and Methanex allowed hearings to be opento the public.            |
|---|----------|--------------------|-------------------------------|---|
| ADF GroupFeb. 29, 2000*July 19,2000 | ICSID    | $90million    | Dismissed                     | Canadian steel contractor challenged U.S. BuyAmerica law related to Virginia highwayconstruction contract.January 2003: Claim dismissed on proceduralgrounds. Tribunal found that the basis of the claimconstituted "government procurement" andtherefore was not covered under NAFTA Article1108. Starting with CAFTA, FTA investmentchapters have included foreign investorprotections for aspects of governmentprocurement activities. |
| CanforNov. 5, 2001*July 9, 2002         | UNCITRAL | $250million   | Concluded                     | Canadian softwood lumber company sued fordamages relating to U.S. anti-dumping andcountervailing duty measures implemented inU.SCanada softwood lumber dispute.September 2005: Case consolidated withTembec claim - see "Softwood Lumber" below.  |
| KenexJan. 14, 2002*Aug. 2,2002      | UNCITRAL | $20million    | Arbitrationneverbegan | Canadian hemp production company challengednew U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency regulationscriminalizing the importation of hemp foods. In2004, Kenex won a U.S. federal court case thatheld the agency overstepped its statutoryauthority when issuing the rules. The NAFTAinvestor-state case was abandoned.  |
| James BairdMarch 15,2002*                 |          | $13.58billion | Arbitrationneverbegan | Canadian investor challenged U.S. policy of disposing nuclear waste at Yucca Mountain, Nevada site. Investor held patents for competing waste disposal method and location.   |
| DomanMay 1, 2002*                      |          | $513million   | Arbitrationneverbegan | Canadian softwood lumber company sued fordamages related to U.S. anti-dumping andcountervailing duties measures implemented inU.SCanada softwood lumber dispute.  |
| Tembec Corp.May 3, 2002*Dec. 3,2003 | UNCITRAL | $200million   | Concluded                     | Canadian softwood lumber company sued fordamages related to U.S. anti-dumping andcountervailing duties measures implemented inU.SCanada softwood lumber dispute.September 2005: Consolidated with TerminalForest Products and Canfor - see "SoftwoodLumber" below.  |
| OntarioLimitedSept. 9, 2002*              |          | $38million    | Arbitrationneverbegan | Canadian company filed suit seeking return ofproperty after its bingo halls and financial recordswere seized during an investigation for RICO   |

|  |          |                  |           | violations in Florida.   |
|--|----------|------------------|-----------|--|
|  |          |                  |           |  |
| TerminalForestProducts Ltd.June 12,2003*March 30,2004                    | UNCITRAL | $90million  | Concluded | Canadian softwood lumber company sued fordamages related to U.S. anti-dumping andcountervailing duties measures implemented inU.SCanada softwood lumber dispute.September 2005: Case consolidated with Canforand Tembec - see "Softwood Lumber" below.   |
| Glamis GoldLtd.July 21, 2003*Dec. 9,2003   | UNCITRAL | $50million  | Dismissed | Canadian company sought compensation forCalifornia law requiring backfilling and restorationof open-pit mines near Native American sacredsites. The company's American subsidiary hadacquired federal mining claims and was in theprocess of acquiring approval from state andfederal governments to open an open-pit cyanideheap leach mine. When backfilling and restorationregulations were issued by California, Glamis fileda NAFTA claim rather than proceed with itsapplication in compliance with the regulations. Thetribunal dismissed Glamis' claims in June 2009 onthe grounds that – with the high price for gold,among other factors – the economic impact of theregulations did not a high enough dollar amount toconstitute an indirect expropriation. |
| Grand RiverEnterprisesSept. 15,2003*March 12,2004                            | UNCITRAL | $340million | Pending   | Canadian company sought damages over 1998U.S. Tobacco Settlement, which requires tobaccocompanies to contribute to state escrow funds tohelp defray medical costs of smokers.July 2006: Jurisdictional ruling dismissed some ofthe claims as time-barred, but permitted otherclaims relating to cigarettes sold on Indianreservations to proceed to a hearing on the merits.   |
| CanadianCattlemen forFair TradeAug. 12,2004*March 162005-June 2,2005 | UNCITRAL | $235million | Dismissed | Group of Canadian cattlemen and feedlot ownerssought compensation for losses incurred when theU.S. halted imports of live Canadian cattle afterthe discovery of a case of BSE (mad cow disease)in Canada in May 2003.January 2008: Claim dismissed on proceduralgrounds. Tribunal ruled that the cattlemen did nothave standing to bring the claim because they didnot have an investment in the U.S., nor did theyintend to invest in the U.S.  |
| SoftwoodLumberConsolidatedProceedingSept. 7, 2005                                  | ICSID    |                  | Concluded | September 2005: Tribunal approved U.S. requestto consolidate Canfor, Terminal Forest and Tembeccases under ISCID rules. The Tembec case waswithdrawn in 2005, but a dispute over litigationcosts continued to be adjudicated by the NAFTAtribunal.July 2007: A final ruling in the Canfor andTerminal Forest cases was issued concluding thecases and apportioning costs in these cases and in   |

| Domtar Inc.April 16,2007*         | UNCITRAL | $200million | Pending | the Tembec case. The Canfor and Terminal Forestcases were terminated after a new softwoodlumber agreement was entered into by the U.S.and Canada in October 2006 which resolved manyNAFTA and domestic court cases on the issue. Thesoftwood lumber dispute was also litigated at theWTO and in NAFTA's state-state dispute resolutionsystem before the 2006 agreement was reached.Canadian softwood lumber company filed suitpost-2006 softwood lumber agreement to try torecover the money it paid out while U.S.countervailing duties were in place - see"Softwood Lumber" case above.  |
|--|----------|------------------|---------|--|
| ApotexDec. 12,2008*               | UNCITRAL | $8million   | Pending | A Canadian generic drug manufacturer sought todevelop a generic version of the Pfizer drug Zoloft(sertraline) when the Pfizer patent expired in2006. Due to legal uncertainty surrounding thepatent, the firm sought a declaratory judgment inU.S. District Court for the Southern District of NewYork to clarify the patent issues and give it the"patent certainty" to be eligible for final FDAapproval of its product upon the expiration of thePfizer patent. The court declined to resolveApotex's claim and dismissed the case in 2004,and this decision was upheld by the federal circuitcourt in 2005. In 2006, the case was denied a writof certiorari by the U.S. Supreme Court. Becausethe courts declined to clarify the muddled patentsituation, another generic competitor got a head-start in producing the drug. Apotex challenged allthree court decisions as a misapplication of U.S.law, NAFTA expropriation, discrimination and aviolation of its NAFTA rights to a "minimumstandard of treatment." |
| CANACAR[Mexicantrucks]April 2, 2009* | UNCITRAL | $6billion   | Pending | A group of Mexican truckers filed a NAFTA Chapter11 suit after Congress took action in 2009 tocancel a Bush administration pilot programallowing 26 Mexican carriers full access to U.S.roadways. The truckers claimed that this refusal ofentry, combined with the U.S. policy that prohibitsMexican carriers from owning businesses in theUnited States that provide cross-border truckingservices, violated the nondiscrimination and mostfavored nation provisions of NAFTA Chapter 11.They also alleged a violation of the minimumstandard of treatment, arguing that the U.S.policies are not compliant with a 2001 NAFTAstate-state panel decision on Mexican trucks. Theclaimants created a novel argument that, due tothe fact that they pay certification fees to theFederal Motor Carrier Safety Administration, theyhave an "investment" in the United States andqualify as "investors" under Chapter 11.  |

| ApotexJune 6,2009 | UNCITRAL | $8million | Pending | Canadian drug manufacturer sought to develop ageneric version of the Bristol Myers Squibb drugPravachol (provastatin sodium). The firm wasunable to obtain approval from the FDA. Apotexfiled a NAFTA Chapter 11 suit claiming that theUnited States violated the national treatment,minimum standard of treatment, and expropriationand compensation articles of NAFTA Chapter 11. |
|-----------------------------|----------|----------------|---------|---|
| CemexSept. 2009*        |          | N/A            | Pending | Mexican cement company Cemex filed a notice ofintent to bring a NAFTA Chapter 11 suit againstthe U.S. government after the state of Texaslaunched a lawsuit against Cemex for not payingroyalties on metals the company extracted fromstate-owned land.   |

Cases & Claims Against Canada

| SignaMarch 4,1996*                         |          | $3.65million | Withdrawn                                 | Mexican generic drug manufacturer claimed thatCanadian Patent Medicines "Notice of Compliance"regulations deprived it of Canadian sales for theantibiotic CIPRO.   |
|---|----------|-------------------|---|--|
| EthylApril 14, 1997*                           | UNCITRAL | $250million  | Settled;Ethylwin, $13million | U.S. chemical company challenged Canadianenvironmental ban of gasoline additive MMT.July 1998: Canada loses NAFTA jurisdictionalruling, reverses ban, paid $13 million in damagesand legal fees to Ethyl.   |
| S.D. MyersJuly 22, 1998*Oct. 30,1998 | UNCITRAL | $20million   | S.D.Myerswin, $5million      | U.S. waste treatment company challengedtemporary Canadian ban of PCB exports thatcomplied with multilateral environmental treatyon toxic-waste trade.  |
|   |          |                   |   | November 2000: Tribunal dismissed S.D. Myersclaim of expropriation, but upheld claims ofdiscrimination and determined that thediscrimination violation also qualified as aviolation of the "minimum standard of treatment"foreign investors must be provided under NAFTA.Panel also stated that a foreign firm's "marketshare" in another country could be considered aNAFTA-protected investment. |
|   |          |                   |   | February 2001: Canada petitioned to have the NAFTA tribunal decision overturned in a Canadian Federal Court.   |
|   |          |                   |   | January 2004: The Canadian federal courtdismissed the case, finding that any jurisdictionalclaims were barred from being raised since theyhad not been raised in the NAFTA claim. Thefederal court judge also ruled that upholding thetribunal award would not violate Canadian "public  |

|   |          |                   |                               | policy" as Canada had argued.   |
|---|----------|-------------------|-------------------------------|---|
| Sun BeltDec. 2, 1998*Oct. 12,1999            |          | $10.5billion | Arbitrationneverbegan | U.S. water company challenged British Columbia bulk water export moratorium.  |
| Pope &TalbotDec. 24, 1999*March 25,1999         | UNCITRAL | $508million  | P&T win,$621,000         | U.S. timber company challenged Canadianimplementation of 1996 U.SCanada SoftwoodLumber Agreement.April 2001: Tribunal dismissed claims ofexpropriation and discrimination, but held thatthe rude behavior of the Canadian governmentofficials seeking to verify firm's compliance withlumber agreement constituted a violation of the"minimum standard of treatment" required byNAFTA for foreign investors. Panel also statedthat a foreign firm's "market access" in anothercountry could be considered a NAFTA-protectedinvestment.  |
| United ParcelServiceJan. 19, 2000*April 19,1999 | UNCITRAL | $160million  | Dismissed                     | UPS, the private U.S. courier company, claimedthat the Canadian post office's parcel deliveryservice was unfairly subsidized because it was apart of the larger public postal service, CanadaPost. As the first NAFTA case against a publicservice, the case was closely watched andincluded amici briefs submitted by the CanadianUnion of Postal Employees and other citizengroups.May 2007: Claims dismissed. The tribunalconcluded that key NAFTA rules concerningcompetition policy from NAFTA Chapter 15 couldnot be invoked because UPS was inappropriatelyframing Canada Post as a "party" to Chapter 11.UPS's complaint that Canada Post receivedpreferential treatment for publications wasrejected as publications were protected underCanada's "cultural industries" exception. Thetribunal also ruled that Canada's customsprocedures did not discriminate against UPS,because the distinctions between postal trafficand courier shipments had been long establishedunder the World Customs Organization. UPS'scontention that Canada Post received preferentialtreatment by exempting rural route mail couriersfrom the application of the Canada Labor Codewas dismissed with little discussion. A lengthydissenting opinion was filed by one tribunalist,indicating that a similar case could generate avery different result. |
| Ketcham andTysaInvestmentsDec. 22,                    |          | $30million   | Withdrawn                     | U.S. softwood lumber firms challenged Canadian implementation of 1996 Softwood Lumber Agreement.  |

| 2000*   |          |                    |                               |   |
|---|----------|--------------------|-------------------------------|---|
| TrammelCrowSept. 7, 2001*   |          | $32million    | Withdrawn                     | U.S. real estate company claimed discrimination over Canada Post's competitive bidding process.   |
| Crompton/ChemturaOriginal noticeof claim datedNov. 6, 2001*Feb. 10,2005 | UNCITRAL | $100million   | Dismissed                     | U.S. chemical company, producer of pesticidelindane, a hazardous persistent organic pollutant,challenged voluntary agreement betweenmanufacturers and the government to restrictproduction. In 2005, Crompton Corporation andGreat Lakes Chemical Corporation merged,becoming Chemtura Corporation . Claims involvediscrimination, performance requirements,expropriation and a violation of the "minimumstandard of treatment" rule. In August 2010, thetribunal ruled against the company in partbecause the company's own actions initiated theban.   |
| Albert J.ConnollyFeb. 19, 2004*   |          | Notavail.      | Withdrawn                     | U.S. investor claimed real estate wasexpropriated by Canadian government to be usedas a park.   |
| ContractualObligationsJune 15,2004*                                     |          | $20million    | Withdrawn                     | U.S. animation production company challengedCanadian federal tax credits available only toCanadian firms employing Canadian citizens andresidents.  |
| Peter PesicJuly 2005*   |          |                    | Withdrawn                     | U.S. investor claimed that Canadian decision not to extend work visa impaired his investment in Canada.   |
| Great LakeFarmsFeb. 28, 2006*June 5,2006  | UNCITRAL | $78million    | Arbitrationneverbegan | U.S. agribusiness challenged Canadian provincialand federal restrictions on the exportation of milkto the U.S. alleging violation of NAFTA's mostfavored nation rule, "minimum standard oftreatment" rule, expropriation and Chapter 15rules on monopolies and state enterprises.   |
| Merrill andRing ForestrySept. 25,2006*Dec. 27,2006                          | UNCITRAL | $25million    | Dismissed                     | U.S. forestry firm challenged Canadian federaland provincial regulations restricting the export ofraw logs. Numerous labor groups have petitionedto submit amici briefs in the case. These groupswant to maintain and strengthen Canada's rawlog export controls at both the provincial andfederal levels. They believed that the claim byMerrill would, if successful, lead to similar claimsultimately leading to the abandonment of logexport controls which they deem essential to thecontinued employment of tens of thousands ofCanadian workers.March 2010: Tribunal rules against Merrill andRing Forestry but orders Canada to pay half ofarbitration costs, amounting to about $500,000. |
| V. G. GalloOct. 12, 2006*March 30,   | UNCITRAL | $355.1million | Pending                       | U.S. citizen owned a decommissioned open-pitiron ore mine in Northern Ontario. He challengeddecision by newly-elected Ontario government to   |

| 2007  |          | [                |         | block a proposed landfill on the site. Callo  |
|---|----------|------------------|---------|---|
|   |          |                  |         | block a proposed landfill on the site. Galloclaimed this decision was "tantamount to anexpropriation" and deprived Gallo of a "minimumstandard of treatment" under NAFTA.   |
| ExxonMobiland MurphyOilAug. 2, 2007*Nov. 1,2007 | ICSID    | $60million  | Pending | U.S. oil firms challenged 2004 Canada-Newfoundland Offshore Petroleum Board'sGuidelines for Research and DevelopmentExpenditures that require oil extraction firms topay fees to support R&D in Canada's poorestprovinces, Newfoundland and Labrador. Offshoreoil fields in the region that had been developedafter significant infusions of public and privatefunds were discovered to be far larger thananticipated, prompting a variety of newgovernment measures. The NAFTA claim arguedthat the new guidelines violated NAFTA'sprohibition on performance requirements.Subsequent agreements by oil companies togrant the provinces an increased equity stake inextraction projects in the region may affect thisNAFTA case. |
| Gottlieb et.al.Oct. 30, 2007*                              |          | $6.5million | Pending | This case involved a number of U.S. citizens whoinvested in Canada's energy sector in vehiclescalled "energy trusts." The manner in whichCanada taxed those trusts changed in 2006.Investors alleged that this change effectivelyeliminated the income trust model as aninvestment option and caused "massivedestruction" to their holdings.April 2008: An exchange of letters between theU.S. and Canadian tax agencies confirmed thatthe claim under expropriation cannot proceed,but this determination did not affect the claimsunder the National Treatment, Most FavoredNation, and Fair and Equitable Treatment articlesof NAFTA.  |
| Clayton/BilconFeb. 5, 2008*May 26,2008              | UNCITRAL | $188million | Pending | Members of the Clayton family and a corporationthey control, Bilcon, alleged that numerousprovincial and federal agencies violated theirNAFTA rights by placing unduly burdensomerequirements on their plans to open a basaltquarry and a marine terminal in Nova Scotia.Specifically, they claimed that the federal andprovincial environmental reviews were arbitrary,discriminatory and unfair.  |
| Georgia BasinFeb. 5, 2008*  |          |                  | Other   | Georgia Basin is a limited partnership based inWashington State that owns timber lands inBritish Columbia. It alleged that Canada's exportcontrols on logs harvested from land in BritishColumbia under federal jurisdiction violatedCanada's obligations regarding expropriation,"minimum standard of treatment," discrimination,most favored nation treatment and performancerequirements. A tribunal decided on January 31,  |

|  |          |                   |           | 2008 to not allow Georgia Basin to participate in  |
|--|----------|-------------------|-----------|--|
|  |          |                   |           | the Merrill and Ring Forestry hearings, see above.   |
| Howard/CenturionHealthJuly 11, 2008*Jan. 5, 2009 | UNCITRAL | $160million  | Other     | A U.S. citizen and his firm, Centurion HealthCorporation, challenged aspects of Canada'snational health-care system and "seriousinconsistencies" between provinces regardingprivate-sector provision of health-care service.Howard and his firm sought to take advantage ofan "increasing openness" to private involvementin the Canadian health-care system in order tobuild a large, private surgical center in BritishColumbia. He claimed his project was thwarted bydiscriminatory and "politically motivated" roadblocks. A tribunal terminated the claim in August2010, because the investor had not made adeposit to cover the costs of arbitration. |
| DowChemicalAug. 25,2008*Mar. 31,2009         | UNCITRAL | $2million    | Pending   | Dow AgroSciences LLC, a subsidiary of the U.S.Dow Chemical Company, filed a NAFTA Chapter11 claim for losses it alleged were caused by aQuebec provincial ban on the sale and certainuses of lawn pesticides containing the activeingredient 2,4-D. Other Canadian provinces areconsidering similar bans.  |
| Malbaie RiverOutfittersInc.Sept. 10,2008*          |          | $5million    | Pending   | U.S. citizen William Jay Greiner owned a businesscalled Malbaie River Outfitters Inc., whichprovided fishing, hunting, and lodging for mostlyAmerican clients in the province of Quebec.Greiner claimed that by changing the lotterysystem for obtaining salmon fishing licenses in2005, the provincial government of Quebec"severely damaged the investor's business." Alsochallenged was Quebec's decision to revokeGreiner's outfitter's license for three rivers whichhe contended effectively destroyed his business.   |
| David BishopOct. 8, 2008*                                      |          | $1million    | Pending   | U.S. citizen David Bishop claimed that hisoutfitting business Destinations Saumon GaspésieInc. was harmed by Quebec's 2005 changes tothe lottery system for obtaining salmon fishinglicenses in a manner similar to the Malbaie RiverOutfitters case above.  |
| Shiell FamilyOct. 8, 2008*                                     |          | $21.3million | Pending   | The Shiell family has dual American and Canadiancitizenship and owned companies in both nations.They claimed that one of their companies,Brokerwood Products International, was forcedinto a fraudulent bankruptcy by the Bank ofMontreal. The family claimed that it was notprotected by the Canadian courts and variousCanadian regulators in violation of Canada'sNAFTA Chapter 11 obligations.   |
| Christopherand NancyLacichApr. 2, 2009*                |          | $1,178           | Withdrawn | This case is very similar to the Gottlieb et.al case.Christopher and Nancy Lacich were U.Sbasedinvestors involved in Canadian energy trustswhen the government changed the tax structure   |

|  |          |                     |   | of the trusts. Christopher and Nancy claimed thatthis taxation rule change constitutedexpropriation.  |
|--|----------|---------------------|---|---|
| Abitibi-Bowater Inc.Apr. 23, 2009*Feb. 25,2010 | UNCITRAL | $467.5million  | Settled,Abitibi-Bowatergets$122million | In December 2008, AbitibiBowater closed a papermill in Newfoundland, putting 800 employees outof work. The government of the province arguedthat various timber and water rights held byAbitibiBowater were contingent on its continuedoperation of the paper mill, pursuant to a 1905concessions contract. Shortly after closure of themill, Newfoundland seized water rights, timberrights, and equipment of the company.AbitibiBowater has claimed that Newfoundland'saction constitutes expropriation under NAFTA. InAugust 2010, the government of Canadaannounced that it would pay AbitibiBowater $122million to settle the case. |
| DetroitInternationalBridgeCompanyJan. 25, 2010*  |          | $1,500million  | Pending   | In February 2007, Canada enacted theInternational Bridges and Tunnels Act, whichgave the government the power to mandatesafety and security measures at internationalbridges, require approval before the transfer ofownership of international bridges or substantialstructural changes to the bridge, and regulate tollfees, among other reforms. The DetroitInternational Bridge Company has claimed thatthis law constitutes expropriation of itsinvestment (the Ambassador Bridge) and violatesits right to a minimum standard of treatment.   |
| John R.Andre, March19, 2010                              |          | $4million+ | Pending   | Andre, a Montana investor, operates a caribouhunting lodge in the Northwest Territories, andcomplains that the territorial governmentexpropriated his investment through its caribouconservation measures, among other allegations.   |

Cases & Claims Against Mexico

| AmtradeInternationalApril 21,1995*          |       | $20million | Arbitrationneverbegan          | U.S. company claimed it was discriminatedagainst by a Mexican company while attemptingto bid for pieces of property, in violation of a pre-existing settlement agreement.       |
|---|-------|-----------------|--|---|
| Halchette1995                                       |       |                 | Arbitrationneverbegan          | No documents regarding this case are public.  |
| MetalcladDec. 30,1996*Jan. 2, 1997 | ICSID | $90million | Metalcladwin,$15.6million | U.S. firm challenged Mexican municipality's refusal to grant construction permit for toxic waste facility unless the firm cleaned up existing toxic waste problems that had resulted in the |

|  |       |                 | 1                |  |
|--|-------|-----------------|------------------|--|
|  |       |                 |                  | facility being closed when it was owned by aMexican firm from which Metalclad acquired thefacility. Metalclad also challenged establishmentof an ecological preserve on the site by a Mexicanstate government.August 2000: Tribunal ruled that the denial of the   |
|  |       |                 |                  | construction permit and the creation of anecological reserve are tantamount to an "indirect"expropriation and that Mexico violated NAFTA's"minimum standard of treatment" guaranteedforeign investors, because the firm was notgranted a "clear and predictable" regulatoryenvironment.  |
|  |       |                 |                  | October 2000: Mexican government challengedthe NAFTA ruling in Canadian court allegingarbitral error. A Canadian judge ruled that thetribunal erred in part by importing transparencyrequirements from NAFTA Chapter 18 into NAFTAChapter 11 and reduced the award by $1 million.In 2004, the Mexican federal government's effortto hold the involved state government financiallyresponsible for the award failed in the MexicanSupreme Court. |
| Azinian, et alDec. 10,                                 | ICSID | $17million | Dismissed        | U.S. firm challenged Mexican federal court decision revoking waste management contract for   |
| 1996*March 10,1997                               |       | +               |                  | a suburb of Mexico City.November 1999: Claim dismissed. Tribunal ruledthat the firm made a fraudulentmisrepresentation with regard to its experienceand capacity to fulfill the contract, and dismissedclaims of expropriation and unfair treatment.   |
| KarpaFeb. 16, 1998*                             | ICSID | $50million | Karpawin,    | U.S. cigarette exporter challenged denial of export tax rebate by Mexican government.  |
| Apr. 7, 1999   |       |                 | $1.5million | December 2002: Tribunal rejected anexpropriation claim, but upheld a claim ofdiscrimination after the Mexican governmentfailed to provide evidence that the firm was beingtreated similarly to Mexican firms in "likecircumstances."December 2003: Canadian judge dismissedMexico's effort to set aside award.   |
| WasteManagementJune 30,1998*Sept. 29,      | ICSID | $60million | Dismissed        | U.S. waste disposal giant challenged City ofAcapulco's revocation of waste disposalconcession. The case also implicated the functionof Mexican courts and the actions of Mexicangovernment banks.  |
| Sept. 29,1998Resubmitted:Sept. 18,2000 |       |                 |                  | April 2004: Claim dismissed. Tribunal found thatthe investor's business plan was based onunsustainable assumptions and that none of thegovernment bodies named in the complaint failedto accord the "minimum standard of treatment,"   |

| Scott Ashton   |          | Not              | Arbitration                   | nor did the city's actions amount to anexpropriation. Further, the tribunal ruled "it is notthe function of Article 1110 to compensate forfailed business ventures."U.S. citizen purchased a residence and restaurant   |
|--|----------|------------------|-------------------------------|---|
| BlairMay 21, 1999*                                       |          | avail.           | neverbegan                | in Mexico and claimed he was victimized byMexican government officials because he was aU.S. citizen.  |
| Fireman'sFundNov. 15,1999*Jan. 15,2002 | ICSID    | $50million  | Dismissed                     | U.S. insurance corporation alleged that Mexico'shandling of debentures, or bonds issued by a firmor government in return for long or medium terminvestment of funds, was discriminatory.July 2003: Tribunal dismissed most claimsincluding claims of discrimination, but allowed the  |
|  |          |                  |                               | expropriation claim to proceed.July 2007: Tribunal ruled that, although there is a"clear case of discriminatory treatment," the onlyquestion before them was the question ofexpropriation and that the actions of the Mexicangovernment did not rise to the level ofexpropriation.                                      |
| Adams, et alNov. 10,2000*April 9,2002      |          | $75million  | Arbitrationneverbegan | U.S. landowners challenged Mexican court rulingthat developer who sold them property did notown land and therefore could not convey it.   |
| Lomas SantaFeAug. 28,2001*                       |          | $210million | Arbitrationneverbegan | An American real estate development companyclaimed Mexican government expropriated landfor the development of streets. It alleged thegovernment's actions were rooted indiscrimination.   |
| GAMIInvestmentsOct. 1, 2001*April 9,2002   | UNCITRAL | $55million  | Dismissed                     | <ul> <li>U.S. investors in Mexican sugar mills challengedfailure of government to ensure profitability ofmills and September 2001 expropriation of fivemills.</li> <li>November 2004: Tribunal dismissed all claimsand awarded no costs, after Mexican SupremeCourt reversed the challenged expropriations.</li> </ul> |
| FrancisKennethHaasDec. 12,2001*              |          |                  | Arbitrationneverbegan | American citizen claimed he was cheated out ofhis rights in an investment firm held with formerMexican business partners.   |
| CalmarkJan. 11, 2002*                                    |          | $400,000    | Arbitrationneverbegan | U.S. company challenged Mexican domestic court decisions regarding a development project planned for Cabo San Lucas, alleging company was cheated out of property and compensation by various individuals.  |
| Robert J.  | UNCITRAL | $1.5            | Arbitration                   | U.S. citizen challenged government confiscation   |

| Fuenda  |          |                  |  | of property allowed to be his in Data Califar i   |
|---|----------|------------------|--|---|
| FrankFeb. 12, 2002*   |          | million          | never  | of property alleged to be his in Baja California,Mexico.  |
|   |          |                  | began  |   |
| Aug. 5,2002   |          |                  |  |   |
| ThunderbirdGamingMarch 21,2002*Aug. 1,2002          | UNCITRAL | $100million | Dismissed                                      | Canadian company operating three video gamingfacilities in Mexico challenged government closureof facilities. Government contended that mostforms of gambling have been illegal in Mexicosince 1938.January 2006: Tribunal dismissed all claims andordered Thunderbird to pay Mexico $1.25 millionfor costs. Tribunal ruled that the company failedto demonstrate that it was treated in adiscriminatory manner or in a manner thatviolated the "minimum standard of treatment"rule. The tribunal also ruled that no expropriationoccurred because the firm did not have a vestedright to conduct the prohibited business activity.February 2007: U.S. court rejects Thunderbird'spetition to vacate ruling.   |
| CornProductsInternationalJan. 28, 2003*Oct. 21,2003 | ICSID    | $325million | CornProductswin,$58.38million | U.S. company producing high fructose corn syrup(HFCS), a soft drink sweetener, soughtcompensation from Mexican government forimposition of a tax on beverages sweetened withHFCS, but not Mexican cane sugar. See ADM andCargill cases below.April 2009: January 2008 award finally becamepublic. Tribunal ruled for CPI on the merits, thenbegan a monetary damages assessment. Paneldismissed most claims but found that Mexicoviolated the national treatment rule by "fail[ing]to accord CPI, and its investment, treatment noless favourable than that it accorded to its owninvestors in like circumstances, namely theMexican sugar producers who were competing forthe market in sweeteners for soft drinks." August2009 tribunal awards CPI $58.38 million. |
| ADM/Tate &LyleOct. 14, 2003*Aug. 4,2004                 | ICSID    | $100million | ADM win,$33.5million                  | U.S. company producing high fructose corn syrupsought compensation against Mexicangovernment for imposition of a tax on beveragesmade with HFCS, but not Mexican cane sugar.Mexico argued that the tax was legitimatebecause the U.S. had failed to open its marketsufficiently to Mexican cane sugar exports underNAFTA.November 2007: NAFTA tribunal ruled that theHFSC tax was discriminatory and a NAFTA-illegalperformance requirement, but did not find it wasan expropriation. This issue was also litigated inthe WTO, which issued a ruling against Mexicoand in favor of the U.S. in 2006.  |

| BayviewIrrigationAug. 27,2004*Jan. 19,2005 | ICSID | $554million | Dismissed                            | Group of 17 U.S. irrigation districts charged thatMexico diverted water owned by U.S. waterdistricts from the Rio Grande to help irrigateMexican farmland at the cost of U.S. farms.June 2007: Case dismissed on proceduralgrounds. Tribunal issued a jurisdictional rulingthat the claimants, who were located in the U.S.and whose investment was located in the U.S.,did not qualify as "foreign investors" underNAFTA. |
|--|-------|------------------|--------------------------------------|--|
| CargillAug. 30, 2005Registered atICSID               | ICSID | $100million | Cargillwin,$77.3million | U.S. company producing high fructose corn syrupsought compensation against Mexicangovernment for imposition of a tax on beveragessweetened with HFCS, but not Mexican canesugar. See ADM and Corn Products cases above.Sept. 2009 tribunal rules in favor of Cargillawarding $77.3 million, the largest award in aNAFTA investment dispute to date.   |

Summary

| Total ClaimsFiled AgainstAll 3 NAFTAParties: | 64          |   | 64 cases, not triple-counting the three consolidated softwood lumber cases.   |
|--|-------------|---|---|
| DismissedCases (Wonby NAFTAParties):         | 15Cases |   | Loewen, Mondev, Methanex, Glamis Gold Ltd.,Canadian Cattlemen for Fair Trade, United ParcelService, Merrill and Ring Forestry, Chemtura, ADFGroup, Azinian, et al, Waste Management, Fireman'sFund, GAMI Investments, Thunderbird Gaming,Bayview Irrigation |
| Cases Wonby Investors:                               | 9 Cases     | $326.9millionpaid toforeigninvestors | Ethyl, S.D. Myers, Pope & Talbot, AbitibiBowater,Metalclad, Karpa, Corn Products International,ADM/Tate & Lyle, Cargill   |