WTO ELECTRONIC COMMERCE NEGOTIATIONS

UPDATED CONSOLIDATED NEGOTIATING TEXT – NOVEMBER 2023

Revision

This Updated Consolidated Negotiating Text is a working document that captures progress so far in the WTO Joint Statement Initiative on Electronic Commerce. It has been prepared under the responsibility of the co-convenors. This text incorporates outcomes of small group discussions, consultations, and members' additional submissions.

For transparency, a box has been included under most provisions to indicate Members' positions or which Members' proposals the text is based on. For text on which discussion has been concluded in the small group, such a box has not been included.

For the purposes of this document, proposed definitions have generally been placed with the provisions to which they relate. Some proposed cross-cutting definitions have been included in "Scope and General Provisions".

Proposals (other than cross-cutting issues) that have not yet been the subject of small group negotiations have been included in a separate Annex.

The draft text reflected in this document is subject to the consideration of several cross-cutting issues that many Members have highlighted in the negotiations, including the following:

- Several Members have noted that they would expect security, general and prudential exceptions to apply.
- Several have expressed their intention that commitments would not apply to government procurement; a service supplied in the exercise of governmental authority; or, except as otherwise indicated, information held by or on behalf of a Party, or measures related to such information, including measures related to its collection.
- Some Members have said they may require sectoral carve-outs.
- Several have noted the need to determine the relationship of provisions with Members' market access commitments, the legal architecture of the JSI outcome, and existing WTO agreements.

In preparing this document, the same drafting approach used for previous streamlined text compilations has been applied. This includes merging elements of text that have a similar effect and the use of square brackets and alternatives to reflect differences in proposals.

This document has been prepared on a without prejudice basis, and text that is not in square brackets does not indicate agreement to or conclusion of the text.

This working document does not prejudge the final legal framework which will give legal effect to each provision.

[Alt: Each [Party/Member] shall adopt or maintain a legal framework governing electronic transactions that takes into account the principles of the UNCITRAL Model Law on Electronic Commerce 1996.]

2. Each [Party/Member] shall endeavour to:

(a) avoid undue* regulatory burden on electronic transactions;

[Alt: avoid undue regulatory burden on electronic transactions with respect to the administrative procedures for applications to competent authorities.]

(b) facilitate input by interested persons in the development of its legal framework for electronic transactions.

*[Drafting note: Several participants mentioned their concern on future interpretation of "undue" in paragraph 2(a) as imposing a necessity test and accepted the term "undue" based on the shared understanding by small group Members that "undue" is not to be interpreted as imposing a necessity test.]

3. The [Parties/Members] recognise the importance of facilitating the use of electronic transferable records. To this end, each [Party/Member] shall endeavour to adopt or maintain a legal framework which takes into account the UNCITRAL Model Law on Electronic Transferable Records 2017.
(2) Electronic authentication and electronic signatures

Co-convenors’ note: This article was cleaned in informal discussions then endorsed at the 20 April 2021 plenary meeting.

1. "Electronic authentication" means the process or act of verifying the identity of a party to an electronic communication or transaction or ensuring the integrity of an electronic communication.

   *Negotiators’ note: It is understood that 'or' includes 'and' and thus encompasses situations where both or either functions are performed.

2. "Electronic signature" means data in electronic form that is in, affixed to, or logically associated with an electronic data message that may be used to identify the signatory in relation to the data message and indicate the signatory's approval of the information contained in the data message.

3. Except in circumstances otherwise provided for under its laws or regulations, a [Party/Member] shall not deny the legal effect, legal validity, or admissibility as evidence in legal proceedings of an electronic signature solely on the basis that the signature is in electronic form.

4. No [Party/Member] shall adopt or maintain measures that would:

   (a) prohibit parties to an electronic transaction from mutually determining the appropriate electronic authentication methods, or electronic signature for that transaction; or

   (b) prevent parties to an electronic transaction from having the opportunity to establish before judicial or administrative authorities that their transaction complies with any legal requirements with respect to electronic authentication or electronic signatures.

5. Notwithstanding paragraph 4, a [Party/Member] may require that, for a particular category of transactions, the method of authentication or the electronic signature meets certain performance standards or is certified by an accredited authority, in accordance with its laws or regulations.

6. To the extent provided for under its laws or regulations, a [Party/Member] shall apply paragraphs 3 to 5 to electronic seals, electronic time stamps and electronic registered delivery services.

7. [Parties/Members] shall encourage the use of interoperable electronic authentication.

8. [Parties/Members] may work together, on a voluntary basis, to encourage the mutual recognition of electronic signatures.

1 For greater certainty, nothing in this provision prevents a [Party/Member] from according greater legal effect to an electronic signature that satisfies certain requirements, such as indicating that the electronic data message has not been altered or verifying the identity of the signatory.
(3) Electronic contracts

Co-convenors’ note: This article was cleaned in informal discussions then endorsed at the 22 July 2021 plenary meeting.

1. Unless otherwise provided for under its laws or regulations, a [Party/Member] shall not deny the legal effect, legal validity, or enforceability of an electronic contract solely on the basis that the contract has been made by electronic means.

2 For greater certainty, an electronic contract includes a contract made by interaction with an automated message system.
(4) Electronic invoicing

Co-convenors’ note: Small group discussion on this article were concluded in February 2023. Co-convenors and the facilitator remain available for discussions with any interested delegations.

Definition:

(1) "electronic invoicing" means the processing and exchange of an invoice between a seller and a buyer using a structured digital format.

(2) "electronic invoicing framework" means a system that facilitates the processing and exchange of an invoice between a seller and a buyer using a structured digital format [and that allows a buyer and a seller to each use a different access point service supplier to exchange an invoice].

1. Unless otherwise provided for under its laws or regulations, a [Party/Member] shall not deny the legal effect or admissibility as evidence in a legal proceeding of an invoice solely on the basis that the invoice is in electronic form.

2. [Parties/Members] recognise that electronic invoicing frameworks can help improve cost effectiveness, efficiency, accuracy, and reliability of electronic commerce transactions.

3. To the extent that a [Party/Member] develops a measure related to electronic invoicing frameworks, the [Party/Member] shall endeavour to design the measure to support cross-border interoperability, including by taking into account international standards, guidelines or recommendations, where they exist [and by promoting the adoption of electronic invoicing frameworks that are based on discovery, delivery and data components that utilize open standards].

4. Each [Party/Member] shall endeavour to share best practices pertaining to electronic invoicing, as appropriate.
(5) Electronic Payments

1. Definition:

   (a) Electronic payments means the payer’s transfer of a monetary claim on a person that is acceptable to the payee and made through electronic means; and

   (b) Self-regulatory organization means any non-governmental body that exercises regulatory or supervisory authority over [financial services suppliers/ electronic payment services suppliers] or financial institutions by statute or delegation from central or regional government.

2. Noting the rapid growth of electronic payments, in particular, those supplied by new electronic payment services suppliers, [Parties/Members] agree to support the development of efficient, safe and secure cross-border electronic payments by fostering the adoption and use of internationally accepted standards, promoting interoperability and the interlinking of payment infrastructures, and encouraging useful innovation and competition in the payments ecosystem.

3. To this end, and in accordance with their respective laws and regulations, [Parties/Members] recognise the following principles:

   (a) [Parties/Members] shall endeavour to make their respective regulations on electronic payments, including those pertaining to regulatory approval, licensing requirements, procedures and technical standards, publicly available in a timely manner.

   (b) [Parties/Members] shall endeavour to take into account, for relevant electronic payment systems, internationally accepted payment standards to enable greater interoperability between payment systems.

   (c) [Parties/Members] shall endeavour to promote the use of Application Programming Interface (API) and to encourage financial institutions and electronic payment services suppliers to make available APIs of their financial products, services and transactions to third party players where possible to facilitate greater interoperability and innovation in the electronic-payments ecosystem.

   (d) [Parties/Members] recognise the importance of upholding safety, efficiency, trust and security in electronic payment systems through regulation. The implementation of regulation should, where appropriate, be proportionate to and commensurate with the risks posed by the provision of electronic payment systems.

   (e) [Parties/Members] agree that policies should promote innovation and competition in a level playing field and recognise the importance of enabling the introduction of new financial and electronic payment products and services by incumbents and new entrants in a timely manner.

4. Under terms and conditions that accord national treatment, each [Party/Member] shall grant electronic payment services suppliers of another [Party/Member] established within its territory access to payment and clearing systems operated by public entities, and to official funding and refinancing facilities available in the normal course of ordinary business. This paragraph is not intended to confer access to the [Party/Member]’s lender of last resort facilities.

For greater certainty, nothing in this Article shall be construed to impose an obligation on a [Party/Member] to modify its domestic rules on payments, including, inter alia, the need to obtain licences or permits or the approval of access applications.

For greater certainty, nothing under this Article shall be construed to require a [Party/Member] to allow foreign service suppliers to engage in the services on which it has not undertaken specific commitments.
5. Each [Party/Member] shall take such reasonable measures as may be available to it to ensure that the rules of general application adopted or maintained by self-regulatory organizations of the [Party/Member] are promptly published or otherwise made available.

6. This Article shall not apply to measures adopted or maintained by a [Party/Member] relating to:

   (a) activities conducted by a central bank or monetary authority or by any other public entity in pursuit of monetary or exchange rate policies;

   (b) activities forming part of a statutory system of social security or public retirement plans; and,

1ter. With a view to creating a paperless border environment for trade of goods, each Party/Member recognises the importance of eliminating paper forms and documents required for import, export, or transit of goods. To this end, Parties/Members are encouraged to eliminate paper forms and documents, as appropriate, and transition toward using forms and documents in data-based formats.

For the purpose of paragraphs 2 and 3, ‘electronic format’ includes, inter alia, formats suitable for automated interpretation and electronic processing without human intervention, as well as digitized images and forms.

2. Each [Party/Member] shall make any form issued or controlled by its customs authority for import, export, or transit of goods through its territory available to the public in an electronic format.

In implementing paragraph 3, [Parties/Members] shall endeavour to:

(a) share with each other their respective experiences in developing and maintaining their single window; and

(b) work towards a harmonization, to the extent [practicable/possible], of data elements and customs processes.

Taking into consideration the interests of micro, small and medium enterprises, [a/each] [Party/Member] shall endeavour to allow traders and other stakeholders to use service providers to exchange data with a single window on their behalf or, where a single window is not available, with customs management systems [on their behalf] FN.

   (b) connect the devices of their choice to the Internet, provided that such devices do not harm the network; and

   (c) access transparent and clear information on the network management practices of their internet access service supplier.

[FN]

[FN: For greater certainty, the public disclosure of personal data that can reasonably be expected to cause unnecessary damage to an individual does not constitute a violation of this obligation provided that it is not inconsistent with paragraph (x) of this article and that it is done for the purposes of legitimate law enforcement activities, judicial proceedings, compliance with regulatory requirements, or national security.]

(b) "Ciphertext" means data in a form that cannot be easily understood without subsequent decryption.

(c) "Cryptography" means the principles, means or methods for the transformation of data in order to conceal or disguise its content, prevent its undetected modification, or prevent its unauthorised use; and is limited to [principles, means or methods where]/[the transformation of information using,] one or more secret parameters, for example, crypto variables, or associated key management [is required in order to transform the data or to perform a corresponding reverse transformation];

(d) "Encryption" means the conversion of data (plaintext) through the use of a cryptographic algorithm into a ciphertext using the appropriate key;

(e) "Information and communication technology product (ICT product)" means a product whose intended function is information processing and communication by electronic means, including transmission and display, or electronic processing applied to determine or record physical phenomena, or to control physical processes.

FN: For greater certainty, an ICT product does not include a financial instrument.

(f) "Key" means a parameter used in conjunction with a cryptographic algorithm that determines its operation in such a way that a person with knowledge of the key can reproduce or reverse the operation, while a person without knowledge of the key cannot.

2. With respect to an ICT product that uses cryptography and is [designed or] [used] for commercial applications, [to the extent practicable and in accordance with domestic laws and regulations,] no [Party/ Member] shall require a manufacturer or supplier [or developer] of the ICT product, as a condition of the manufacture, sale, distribution, import or use of the ICT product, to:

(a) transfer or provide access to any proprietary information relating to cryptography, including by disclosing a particular technology, production process, or other information, for example, a private key or other secret parameter, algorithm specification or other design detail, to that [Member/Party] or a person in the territory of that [Member/Party];

FN1: [Parties/Members] understand that this making available shall not be construed to negatively affect the status of any proprietary information relating to cryptography as a trade secret.

(b) a measure adopted or maintained by a [Member/Party] relating to the regulation or supervision of financial instruments, [institutions/services suppliers], or markets;

(c) a requirement that a [Member/Party] adopts or maintains relating to access to networks, including user devices, that are owned or controlled by [the government of] that [Member/Party] and are exclusively for use in the exercise of government functions, including those of [critical national public infrastructures] and central banks.

(d) the manufacture, sale, distribution, import, or use of an ICT product by or for [the government of] a [Member/Party].]

Facilitator’s note: The Small Group agreed to work on the basis of this Facilitator redraft for paragraph 3 on 25 October. This text is subject to further discussion and amendments.

[4. Where proprietary information relating to cryptography of an ICT product that uses cryptography and that is [designed or] used for commercial applications has been revealed to a [Member/Party] upon its request, that [Member/Party] shall adopt or maintain measures to prevent the unauthorised disclosure of proprietary information contained in or related to the ICT product that uses cryptography. To this end, each [Member/Party] shall provide for appropriate preventative measures against that disclosure, including by limiting the access to and use of that information to those who are essential to the performance of those activities only.]

C.4. Cybersecurity

Co-convenors’ note: Small group discussion on this article were concluded in October 2022. Co-convenors and the facilitator remain available for discussions with any interested delegations.

1. The [Parties/Members] recognise that threats to [cybersecurity/information security] undermine confidence in [digital trade/electronic commerce].

2. [Parties/Members] recognize the evolving nature of cyber threats. In order to identify and mitigate those threats and thereby facilitate [digital trade/electronic commerce] the [Parties/Members] shall endeavour to:

   (a) build the capabilities of their respective national entities responsible for cybersecurity incident response;

   (b) collaborate to identify and mitigate malicious intrusions or dissemination of malicious code that affect electronic networks of [Parties/Members] and to address cybersecurity incidents in a timely manner, [combat cybercrime], as well as to share information for awareness and best practices.

3. Given the evolving nature of cyber threats and their negative impact on [electronic commerce/digital trade], the [Parties/Members] recognise the importance of risk [-based/management] approaches in addressing those threats while minimising trade barriers. Accordingly, [where appropriate] each [Party/Member] shall endeavour to employ, and to encourage enterprises within its jurisdiction to use, risk [-based/management] approaches that rely on risk management best practices and on standards developed in a consensus-based, transparent, and open manner, to identify and protect against cybersecurity risks, to detect [cybersecurity events], and to respond to and recover from cybersecurity incidents.

Drafting note: The delegations' understanding of standards developed in a consensus-based manner draws on the TBT Committee Principles for the Development of International Standards, Guides and Recommendations. In this context, consensus need not imply unanimity.
Section D: Cross-cutting issues

D.1. Flow of information

(1) Flow of Information and Location of Computing Facilities

This proposal is circulated by the Facilitators for discussion purposes with the aim of finding a landing zone that bridges the different approaches reflected in existing proposals. The Facilitators express special appreciation to the UK for its Communication (INF/ECOM/79) of July 2023, and to Members for their active contributions and input in the discussions hitherto October 2023.

This text is under the sole responsibility of the Facilitators of the Small Group on Data flows and localization of computing facilities. It is circulated to capture, on a best-effort basis, the comments and suggestions made by Members. This is not intended to prejudge any outcome of the final text nor intended to preclude any Member from raising comments and drafting suggestions in the future. Members can also refer to the existing proposals on the data discipline to complement ongoing and future discussions.

The text takes INF/ECOM/79 as a basis. It integrates within brackets elements contained in section “D.1 Flow of information” of the Consolidated text INF/ECOM/62/Rev.4 or brought forward by participants during the meetings of September and October 2023 of the Small Group on Data flow and localization.

This text is without prejudice to Facilitators’ national positions with respect to the final negotiated outcome of the Joint Statement Initiative and to the Facilitators’ national positions reflected in the consolidated text.

ARTICLE X+10: E-COMMERCE FACILITATION FUNDING FACILITY

Objectives

1. The role of the E-Commerce Facilitation Funding Facility (ECFFF) is to support the Committee's work in relation to assisting developing Members and LDCs in implementing the Agreement. Guidance concerning the nature of such support will be provided by the Committee.
Operational Directives

(a) Priorities

2. To fulfil its role, the ECFFF will prioritize the following activities:

   (i) The grant programme;
   (ii) Technical assistance and capacity building;
   (iii) Engagement with Annex D and development partners;
   (iv) Maintain the website.

3. These priority activities will be conducted respecting the Paris Principles of Aid Effectiveness, namely ownership, alignment, harmonization, managing for results and mutual accountability.

(b) Modes of Delivery

(i) Grant programme: The ECFFF will administer a grant programme to which, when no other funding is available, a Member having notified Category C provisions may apply. The procedures of the grant programme are established in its Operational Rules.

(ii) Technical assistance and capacity building: The ECFFF will respond to requests from developing Members and LDC Members for technical assistance and capacity building on the Agreement which relate to the following outcomes: identifying implementation assistance, ratification of the Agreement, notifications under the Agreement, and strengthening the operation of national e-commerce facilitation committees. Activities may be organized to address the needs of an individual Member, group of Members or a regional grouping.

(iii) Engagement with Annex D and development partners: The ECFFF will maintain close contact with Annex D and development partners so as to share information and allow for coordination and non-duplication of efforts on e-commerce facilitation. The ECFFF may respond to requests from those organizations to participate in activities to further support these objectives.

(iv) Maintain the website: The ECFFF website underpins the three modes of delivery described above. In addition, the maintenance of up-to-date e-commerce facilitation resources on the website ensures that it constitutes a comprehensive information sharing/exchange platform.

Management and Transparency

Planning

5. The ECFFF working jointly with a representative group composed of interested Members shall prepare a work plan for the upcoming calendar year.

6. This work plan shall be drawn up based on inter alia the following:

   (i) Priorities identified by the Committee as conveyed during a formal meeting held before mid-year, under a specific agenda item entitled "ECFFF Work Plan"; and
   (ii) E-commerce facilitation needs identified in the UNCTAD eTrade Readiness Assessment on Members' technical assistance needs as well as needs identified in Category C notifications.

7. The work plan, accompanied by a draft budget based on the activities identified, shall be reviewed by the Committee during its dedicated session on assistance and capacity building. Requests for activities will be submitted throughout the year, via the activity request form on the ECFFF website and shared with interested Members via the online tracker to enhance transparency.

Monitoring

8. Activities undertaken by the ECFFF will be monitored using a log frame which will be updated as required during the annual work planning phase.

9. Each activity request will identify the targeted outcomes of the activity in the context of the annual work plan priorities, and reports evaluating these activities will be posted thus allowing for results-based management, ensuring transparency and contributing to avoiding duplication of efforts.

10. Requests for grants will be submitted using the online expression of interest process, which may progress to a grant application which is then reviewed according to the operational rules of the grant programme. This process should help ensure transparency, non-duplication of activities and enhanced monitoring of the requested grant.

Reporting

11. The ECFFF shall provide the Committee with an annual report by the end of June of the following year. The report will be composed of two Sections.

12. Section I will cover the following elements:

   (i) a presentation and assessment of achieved outputs and outcomes compared to their aims and presented in the context of the log-frame and work plan priorities;

   (ii) An estimation of impact; and

   (iii) An outline of risks identified prior to and during implementation of the ECFFF’s activities since the last report and how these risks have been mitigated, as well as lessons-learned for the future.

13. Section II will cover the following elements:

   (i) The financial report which will describe the use of funds in the ECFFF since the last report and be set up in accordance with WTO financial rules and regulations including, as appropriate, any outcomes from the current discussions on trust funds in the context of the Budget Committee. The financial report will be based on the draft budget presented alongside the corresponding work plan, with additional expenditure related to the activities approved by the request forms received throughout the year.

14. The ECFFF shall also provide an update of its activities (either orally or in writing) to each regular formal meeting of the Committee.

The ECFFF Secretariat

15. The ECFFF Secretariat is housed within the WTO and its responsibilities comprise the delivery of the operational guidelines, as supplemented by this document.

16. The ECFFF continues to be subject to the regular audit procedures of the WTO.
